ROUSE AND PARSONS

The plain facts are what interest the public. Untruthful representations as to quality of goods is commercial sui cide. Cur ever-increasing patronage is due in an equal degree to what we do and what we don't do. For example: We DO sell the very best shoes for the money in all grades that can be produced by the leading manufacturers.

We DO NOT handle snide auction goods, made by shoddy manufacturers to deceive the "cheap" trade. We DO sell at lower prices, quality considered, than any other establishment in the city.

We DO NOT attempt to palm off upon the unsuspecting customer a worthless shoe made of rejected split leather with paper soles and bogus counters, designed to imitate legitimate goods. We DO sell the first quality of rubbers and overshoes, and the first quality only.

We DO NOT buy or sell either second or third quality of rubbers and evershoes, these two grades being burnt and damaged in manufacture, and therefore of little or no value for service.

We DO guarantee every statement made to a customer concerning quality, style and price of goods. We DD NOT misrepresent goods, nor attempt to deceive and defraud purchasers. In short, we do a strictly honest business in honest goods, and do not seek to gull such dupes as can neither detect nor appreciate the difference between shoody and legitimate dealers.

THE REPUBLICAN CAUCUSES.

List of Delegates Chosen Last Night for This Evening's Convention-How the New Plan Operated-Large Turnout in Some of the Wards.

While the snow-storm served to keep away many, especially of that class of voters which seldom attends primaries and ward cancuses, the turnout at the precinct Republican meetings last night to select delegates to this evening's convention in Black's Opera House to nominate a city ticket, was large, in most cases, and it may be said, without dangerous stretch of the imagination, representative. With all the care and pains the executive as to the modus operandi of chosing delegates under the new and very original plan adopted there was more or less misu aderstanding of the rules and delay on that score in getting down to business after the meetings were once organized. In some of the precincts it was found that to follow out instructions as to choosing the committee of ten, would run the caucus well toward morning. The rules were accordingly suspended and committeemen chosen by viva voce vote as the names were proposed and presented in order. In others the rule was followed out. Precinct B. Third ward, was one of these and it was nearly ten o'clock before the tenth committemen was elected, several names, of as good Republicans as there are in the precinct, being rejected for the reason the owners were not the sort of Republicans wanted. The committee, after an hour's deliberation in a room by self, presented a list of ready-made delegates to the meeting and was sent back to have the work done as per rule, the 38 names being placed in two hats and nineteen drawn in presence of the open caucus. There were no special incidents worthy of detail here, taking the city generally, and there was good humor through all the proceedings. Today, as was to have been expected, there is a diversity of opinion as to the practical value and success of the new plan of delegate choosing, and the caucuses and tonight's real business in convention, are leading topics of conversation. Almost any body you meet has a prediction to make as to the ticket as finally made up. The convention, to nominate a ticket for Springfield township, made up of delegates from the wards and precincts and the township at large, will meet at seven o'clock sharp, in Black's Opera House and is given half an hour to perform its work. The city convention will be called to order as nearly as possible at 7:30 o'clcck. The time of adjournment is a matter about which every man has his individual opinion. Delegates are desired to be prompt that business may be begun early. Positions have been designated in the usual manner in the parquette and dress circle of the opera house for the different delegations.

The following is a list of delegates chosen also, so far as obtained of the committe of Amusements. The cham, ion mirth-makers, Salsbury's Troubadours, will appear at the Grand next Saturday in their immensely funny farcical comedy, "Three of a Kind," of which the New York Clipper say : "The verdict is that 'Three of a K nd' will beat anything in the way of a 'straight' that the Troubadours can shuffle out of their old repertory, and that it can be played everywhere for big money. The incidents are bappy, and the sayings are witty. The interest is sustained throughout and mirth reigns almost incessantly. Salsbury, Nellie McEenry, T. E. Jackson, and W. H. Daboll bore off the bonors for ac ing. Jackson's old maid was a study. A flirtation in the second act conducted in dumb show by Daboll with a phantom female was especially to the liking of the audience, and Salsbury's and Miss McHenry's songs were demanded again and again." Next Saturday Bartley Campbell's beautiful and romantic drama, "The Galley Slave," will, after a short absence, be again presented in Springfield, at Black's Opera House, at reduced prices-10, 15 and 25 cents. This play has left here a very favorable impression. The cast is entirely different from the one seen here, but there is every guarantee of its being a good one, as Bartley Campbell never sells his plays outright, but retains a coutrolling interest in them, and in order to retain their standard of commercial as well as literary value, never permi's poor actors to play in them. The management is not unfamiliar, and is no mean trade-mark-Fred S. Berger, who has visited here at various times as manager of Sol Smith Russell in "Edgewood Folks," Mr. and Mrs. George S. Knight in "Baron Rudolph," and the famous Berger Family concert company.
